WHAT IS A LAWYER WORTH BY THE DAY? SPERRY COMPANY

Experts Testify That Ordinary Ones Ought to Get $20, but Some May Get $50—Mrs. Thompson Disputes Fees.

Those who had the privilege of hearing the evidence in the appeal of Mrs. Louise Thompson, of Stamford, from the finding of the Stamford Probate Court, allowing the fees of certain lawyers and of the New York Life Insurance and Trust Company, were confused yesterday. They could not make up their minds whether lawyers charge according to a scale, or simply "tail the traffic" will be a lawyer's Greenville T. Emmett, a New York lawyer, who had worked for the estate, has a bill for over $19,000. The bill includes 120 entries. Attorney Frederick D. Hubbell has a bill for $2,000. Mrs. Thompson testified that she was told by a member of the Trust Company, that Mr. Hubbell did not receive $2,000, but $1,500. The company took $500, she said, as a commission, for giving him the job.

Two lawyers were called as experts. One was A. B. Woodward, for long probate judge of South Norwalk. He thought that $20 a day was a fair price for the service of a lawyer. The other was James T. Hurlburt, who said upon cross examination by John C. Chamberlain, that few lawyers in the country get $50 for a day's work, either in or outside of their offices.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS
The funeral of George T. Eadie, who died in Middletown, was held yesterday afternoon from the home of his mother, Mrs. Robert Eadie, 300 Fairfield avenue, and attended by a large number of friends and relatives, there being present a large delegation from the Middletown Aerle of Eagles, as well as many employees of the Southern New England Telephone Co. Rev. E. J. Craft, pastor of Christ Episcopal church, officiated. Interment was in Lakeview cemetery.

Funeral services over the remains of John Sawyer were held yesterday afternoon from his late home in Pembroke street, Rev. H. A. Davenport, pastor of the People's Presbyterian church, officiating. Delegations from Samuel H. Harris lodge, I. O. O. F., and P. T. Banchus lodge, K. of P., accompanied the remains to their last resting place in Park cemetery. The pall bearers were H. P. Fitzroy and C. W. Drew from the I. O. O. F.; J. Schmitt and E. Cave from the K. of P., and D. W. Green and J. T. Cooper.

ROACHES Running Wild

GALLERY GIVES WAY; HUNDREDS ARE INJURED

Many Fatalities May Result — Panic Stricken Crowd at Indoor Marathon in Seattle.

Seattle, May 7.—It is now certain that the list of injured in last night's accident at the National Guard Armory here will reach 150 and it is declared by the doctors at the hospitals that many of them will die. Just how many are fatally hurt will not be known until later in the day as the hospital attaches are rushed to the limit caring for the badly hurt. The disaster followed the finish of the Marathon which was the feature of the indoor competitions given under the auspices of the Northwestern Athletic Association. A big crowd had filled every point of vantage in the big spectators gallery just above the finish mark. The race had been most exciting throughout and despite the fact that it was nearly morning the crowd held fast. Finally in the last lap F. Jackson of the Seattle Athletic Club, the favorite with the crowd, sprinted and went into a long leap as he broke the tape the crowd overhead began to cheer. Those in the rear crowded those in front and there was a thinning of the crowd as it moved.

Captain Maurice Thompson of the Seattle Guard, shouted to the crowd in the rear to fall back but his cry was not understood and the pressure became more and more intense. Finally the balcony gave way and the thousands of more persons who were in front were precipitated to the floor, a distance of 17 feet. In an instant, one of the worst panics in the history of Seattle had been precipitated. The uninjured persons started in a run for the exits and men and women screamed wildly while from the great jumbled mass of humanity piled high on the floor of the armory came moans and screams of fright and agony. In less than five minutes before those in charge got their heads about them and started to relieve the tangle of terribly injured humanity.

Men and women were piled in a seemingly inextricable mass and many of the head suffered from broken limbs while others were bleeding from scalp wounds and contusions. Hurry calls for ambulances were sent in and soon doctors from every institution in the city were on the scene. In the meantime the officers of the guard who were in the armory had restored some semblance of order and all of the police reserved were hurried to the armory. A cordon was thrown about the building and no one permitted to enter until the soldiers and policemen arranged the injured in long rows on the drill hall floor.

As fast as a doctor got through with a patient he or she was carried out to a waiting ambulance or patrol wagon and taken to the hospital. Soon from the hospitals came word that all of the wards were filled and then the authorities pressed into service the city buildings to act as temporary asylums for the wounded while those who were not of a too serious nature were conveyed to their homes. It is charged to-day that the officers in charge of the armory were directly responsible for the accident as they permitted the gallery to become overcrowded.

BROOKS' BILL TO TAX SAVINGS DEPOSITS IS UNFAVORABLY REPORTED

Hartford, May 7.—After holding hearing No. 3 on Senator Isaac W. Brooks' bill for the taxation of savings deposits in national banks, the Finance committee voted yesterday to report the matter unfavorably. Tax Commissioner W. H. Corbin, Laurens F. Robinson and Deputy Treasurer F. Frank Marshall appeared to support the bill and Charles M. Joslyn of Hartford and Mr. Trumbull of Plainville in opposition. The contention of the opposition has been that the State should not go on record as favoring savings deposits in national banks, and that the present laws cover the ground if they are enforced.

Ann M. Barnes, widow of William F. Bradley, died last evening at her home, 728 Myrtle avenue, aged 75 years. The deceased was twice married, her first husband being Samuel B. Dayton. She resided for a number of years in Long Hill. The deceased is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Sarah E. French, a granddaughter, Mrs. Herbert E. Walker, both of Long Hill, and one grandson, George E. French, of Trumbull.

OPERATION HER ONLY CHANCE

Was Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Adrian, Ga.—"I suffered untold misery from a female weakness and disease, and I could not stand more of it. My doctor said an operation was the only chance I had, and I dreaded it almost as much as death. One day I was reading how other women had been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and decided to try it. Before I had taken one bottle I was better, and now I am completely cured."—LENA V. HENRY, Route No. 8, Adrian, Ga.

Why will women take chances with an operation or drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has cured thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion, and nervous prostration.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be absolutely confidential, and the advice free.

STATEMENT OF JAMES SANDS

To the Editor of the Bridgeport Farmer:

Sir—As a resident of Bridgeport for over 30 years I feel hurt over the way in which I received yesterday morning at the hands of the Director of Public Works. I want to make this statement to the public of Bridgeport in order that they may know the way in which I was treated. I am a laborer upon the Coulter & McKenale factory. I am a fireman by occupation, but cannot get employment in the work I wish to do. At a year ago I worked five weeks for the city, and I thought this spring I would ask again. I had the city yard several times, but was unable to get anything there. This morning I went to the office of the director in the city hall. Mr. Cortade was there and he told me that he had no work. He said he never saw me at the city yard. Before going out I asked Mr. Bliz. He knew of me. He said: "There is such a lot of old plugs like you coming around looking for work. I don't want you around bothering me. I want to get my work done." I left the office and went down on the sidewalk in State street, and Mr. Bliz came along and told me that he had been in Bridgeport for many years. He said: "I don't give a damn if you have been 500 years in the town."

He gave me a note to Harry Quinn and said that the job was not for the city but for his own company. I took the note and the more I thought of it, the more I felt that I had been abused. I decided that I was still an American citizen and I went back to Mr. Bliz and laid the note down on his desk. He said that I did not want to work. I told him that I did but I did not want the flesh taken off my bones in working time. I am now quite 50 years of age and still have a sound body and I will keep going until I get a job. I don't think any of you would take the abuse that I did if they could understand his English.

GRAND OPERA AT SMITH'S THEATRE

"Il Trovatore", the celebrated opera by Verdi, was sung in Italian at the theatre last night to a small but appreciative audience. Leonora, which was to have been sung by Margherita Vassallo, was rendered by Lena Bertozzi who came from New York in response to an emergency call. The change did not affect the giving of the opera, as Mme. Bertozzi possesses a rich soprano voice and splendid control.

CREDITORS OF ART STORE HOLD MEETING

The first meeting of the creditors of the Danbury Art Store, Kenyon P. Pitton and James McDonald proprietors, was held before U. S. Commissioner in Bankruptcy John W. Banks at 11 o'clock this morning. The petition was filed April 24. The assets of the company are $2,150.00; liabilities, $7,243.32.

EMPLOYER REFUSES TO PROSECUTE HIS CLERK

The case of W. L. Lloyd, charged with embezzling goods from the store of J. A. Levery, where he was employed as a clerk, was nolleed in the City court this morning. Mr. Levery declined to press the charge, although Lloyd was arrested with a large quantity of goods taken from the store on his person. Lloyd is married and lives with his family in Milford.

KNOWLES ADMITTED TO SCHOOL FOR DUMB

Hartford, May 7.—The admission of F. Lawrence Knowles of Bridgeport to the Myrtle Oral School for the Deaf has been authorized by the governor.

WE WILL PAY YOU $9 A WEEK

That's What the Employer Always Says to the Fellow With "Seedy" Clothes.

BUM LOOKING CLOTHES SIGNIFY ADVERSITY

Then He Wants You or Your Product at His Price—He Is Not This Presumptuous With the Well Dressed Man.

There are many men in this city saving money in their clothing and they look it. Are you one of them? Are you selecting your clothes from a pile on the ready-made shop's table? Have you been made for any Tom, Dick or Harry—and think because they're a few dollars cheaper than a good custom tailored suit that you're saving money? If you are, do you fully realize that what you're saving in dollars you're losing ten-fold in satisfaction? The man who displays pride in his wearing apparel and who demands the best is a man in every sense of the word. His clothes develop for him a confidence in himself that stands him in excellent stead in every business deal with which he is confronted and equips him to handle a social situation with an ease and gain for him the respect of everyone present. In business no one ever asked a man neatly attired in a custom tailored suit to work for nine or ten dollars a week, but the fellow carelessly rigged up in an ill fitting suit of doubtful origin has been offered just such lucrative (?) employment. In a transaction a man's appearance counts for much in the price he gets for the article he has for sale. "Seedy" clothes signify he needs the money and the buyer forces him to sell cheap, while on the other hand if he were fittingly dressed no one would be presumptuous enough to offer him such—and such an amount (always far under the price asked) and no more.

In the affairs of life dress cut an all-important feature and the well dressed man gets the call. Wake up, man! Get out of the cheap ready-made clothes class and do yourself the justice of being a man of good appearance. Good clothes—the kind which makes at 1042 Main street—add dignity and gain for you respect. They don't cost much more—just enough additional to make them individual and to assure you of a fit. They're built carefully, time, plenty of it, is expended to give you a garment of exceptional merit. You should at least step up stairs and talk it over—you'll be glad as long as you live if you
